EDWARD DAVIES appeared for the M.

ANNUAL LEASE APPLICATION.
The Minister for Lands submitted a reference to the Court for the determination of the capital value of the land comprised in Geographical Subdivisions Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, and district of Grafton. There was no appearance of the respondent, and the Court made an order for the sale of the land.

IMPROVEMENT LEASE: IMPROVEMENTS.
J. McLeish appeared against the decision of the Comptroller Land Board in respect of improvements. Lease No. 131, "Comptroller, at the request of the association of the leaseholders, J. F. McMillan appeared for the applicant."

The Court said that the real object of the application was to have the improvements placed before the Land Board, as to the improvements. In order that the Court might be able to make a proper decision, it dealt with on proper evidence, the cases submitted to the land board, before for a return of the value of the improvements.

ANNUAL LEASE APPLICATION.
The Minister for Lands referred to the Court for the determination of the value of the land comprised in the Geographical Subdivisions Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, and district of Grafton. There was no appearance of the respondent, and the Court made an order for the sale of the land.

decision of Elizabeth Clemons McDunn, 15-8, Morse.

The Court said there was no evidence before it and it appeared there had been no evidence before the local Land Board, as to the value of the property, and as to the amount of the money to be paid for the same, and it was not possible to apply for the annual lease, and the master might be fully justified in not doing so, and the local Land Board for withholding. The evidence adduced was to be taken as evidence at the trial.

MARINE COURT.

Before Judge Harkness, with Consulting Counsel J. R. Carpenter, as Reporter.

CHURCHA-BELMORE COLLISION.

The inquiry into the circumstances attending the collision between the steamers "Churcha," owned by the North Coast Steam Navigation Co., and the Belmore, owned by R. G. Eversen and others, which took place about the 10th of May last, was concluded.

The Court found that the splitting

NO BOND OF SYMPATHY.

A copy of an article from the "New Journal of Commerce" on America's attitude toward Germany has been forwarded to Mr. C. C. Murray of Yorkville, New York, which is in strong sympathy with the cause of the Allies, concluding:—"There is no understanding by Americans about the militarism. There is too much American history back of it and there is too much advocacy and defence of it so that we leave no doubt about it. Right here where the fundamental cause of the understanding of the Allies is to be the sympathy of real Americans with the Allies in this conflict is to be the Prussian militarism and its purposes are

New South Wales: Via new street to College-street; by College-street to Oxford-street; up Oxford-street to Centennial Park, entering by the Queen-street gate; through the park by the Palm-avenue, leaving the park at Darley-road, then along Randwick-road to the asylum.

Refreshments will be supplied to the soldiers at the warf.

Decorations, including a triumphal arch, will be placed in the park.

The forces available to keep the route open are: 50 Naval Cadets (Capitain Brownlow), 250 Senior Cadets (North Sydney Grammar School), 200 Senior Cadets (Sydney Grammar School). Eight or ten mounted police keep the track open, 100 police at the wharf and 35 police at Randwick Soldiers' Hospital.

The Chief Secretary, Mr. Black, stated last night that he found that he was unable to make accommodation for the relations of returning soldiers along the line of march. He had heard from the military authorities that the soldiers would have to be first medically examined at the Randwick Hospital before their relations would be able to exchange greetings formally with them. This, he added, the Minister, that there could be no hand-shaking permitted till the men had returned from the hospital inspection.

MELBOURNE RECEPTION.
GREAT PUBLIC OVATION.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

Wounded Australian soldiers who returned last week by the Ballarat, were given an enthusiastic welcome and reception at the Town Hall this afternoon by a committee, presided over by the Lord Mayor (Sir David Russell). The Federal Attorney-General (Mr. Higgins), the Minister for Defence (Senator Pearce), the State Premier (Sir Alex. Peacock), Hon. Admiral Creswell, and a number of other dis-the Minister for Defence (Senator Paine), the State Premier (Sir Alex. Peacock), Admiral Creswell, and a number of other distinguished citizens were present. Prior to reception a procession of wounded men was held through the city, starting from the new hospital in St. Kilda-road. For over an hour before the procession was timed to start, crowds lined the route. Barriers had been put up to keep the streets clear, and the constabulary packed up the beach. As the convalescent wounded soldiers came along, Seaton-street their occupants were greeted with an outburst of cheering which has been heard all over the city. The soldiers themselves, with very few exceptions, wore bare, marks of the times through which been heard all over the city. The pliers themselves, with very few exceptions, threw bore marks of the times through which they have passed. Some carried arms in their others had bandages around their heads, and there was hardly a car which did not have at least one pair of crutches projecting over the side. But the men, with white plasters decorating their hats and uniforms, smiled and waved their hands in response to the cheers of the crowd. One poor fellow was excited special sympathy because he was a millioner over the lower part of his face, which had been almost entirely shot away. After going along Swanton-street, the procession turned down Collins-street to William-street.

On their arrival at the Town Hall they were received by the Lord Mayor.

stant in defence of your country and the cause of civilisation, welcome back to Australia. You have done well. Your country is proud of you. Your fellow-citizens rejoice at your return, and feel themselves uplifted by your splendid example by your disregard of danger and death, and are proud to call themselves Australians, and so akin to you."
("Cheers.") In conclusion, Mr. Hughes said that the Government would see that none of those suffered through having done their duty.
The Minister for Defence, Senator Pearce,

...suffered through having done their duty.
The Minister for Defence, Senator Pearce, said today he felt that by the actions of the men whom they were welcoming Australia had been lifted on to a higher plane. He had read of their deeds in both official reports and contemporary journalists' stories, but never had he met any of them hesitating to do their duty.

The Minister for Agriculture, this week, will inquire into what has been done in the southern State in this regard. In Great Britain sport has been reduced considerably, and, unfortunately, on the part of many promoters, and the Premier stated last night that he thought a bill may be necessary to give effect to what is contemplated here.

Mr. Holman says that the restrictions to be imposed will apply to horseracing as well as to athletic displays. The matter was brought up in the Legislative Assembly last night. Mr. Edden put the following question to the Premier:—

"After the dastardly and damnable treatment meted out to the Premier and the leader of the Opposition, will the Premier consider it

Premier:-
"After the dastardly and damnable treatment meted out to the Premier and the leader of the Opposition at the Stadium, will the Premier take steps to stop boxing matches till the war is over?"
Mr. Holman replied: "The whole question of the regulation of sport during the war is under consideration at the present moment."

AUSTRALIAN LEAD.

RUSSIAN DEMAND.

RUSSIAN DEMAND.

According to a despatch received by the Premier from the Commercial Commissioner in the East (Mr. J. B. Sutor), there will be a large Russian demand for Broken Hill lead.

"During my recent visit to Vladivostok," he writes, "I specially interviewed the Russian authorities, and as a result I ascertained that further very large orders for lead will be placed, as also large orders for copper, and that the Broken Hill lead will receive every consideration. I also ascertained from the authorities at Vladivostok that it is expected that 70,000 and 30,000 tons of consideration. I also ascertained from the authorities at Vladivostok that it is estimated between 20,000 and 30,000 tons of lead have, to date, been delivered. The bulk of this being Broken Hill lead, either sent through the London market. I also saw the brands of English lead stacked on the wharves of Vladivostok being now about the only lead through which the Russians can obtain supplies, there is certainly marked activity.
